

ON THE STATUS OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY

2021-2022 GRANT CYCLE

SCORECARD 2021-2022

The Women's Giving Circle of Cumberland County (WGCCC) is a diverse group of women who pool our financial resources to fund programs that impact positive change in the lives of women and children in the local community. The WGCCC is a participating membership fund of the Cumberland Community Foundation with our members serving as an advisory panel to oversee the administration and grant-making process. Our giving is intentional and is guided by research that we conduct.

Using our research, we educate our members and the community on problems that negatively impact our county's women and children. Research also guides the focus areas selected for grant-making. The Focus Areas for grant cycle 2021-2022 are FOSTER CARE, LITERACY, CHILD ABUSE, and LIFE SKILLS.

FOSTER CARE

Foster care refers to children under legal custody of the North Carolina Department of Social Services who are placed with relatives, in emergency shelters, group homes, residential facilities or other approved placements. In fiscal years 2015-2018, Cumberland County has had the highest number of foster children in the state.

LITERACY

Cumberland County School System (CCSS) partnered with North Carolina Education Corps (NCEC) to accelerate learning recovery efforts for elementary school students (K – Grade 3) in the aftermath of learning loss due to COVID-19. Six CCS schools will have "highimpact literacy tutors from December 2021 through May 2022.

• The Cumberland County Schools student subgroups including "Economically Disadvantaged;" "Foster;" and "Homeless" performed lower than all the other subgroup categories.

- Foster students performed at the lowest proficiency percentage in both the 3-8 and 9-12 grade levels.
- Foster students in grades 9-12 had the lowest level of proficiency overall of any category.

FOOD INSECURITY

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) defines food insecurity as a lack of consistent access to enough food for an active healthy life.

Food insecurity in young children contributes to developmental delays, impaired school function, emotional distress and health risks through adulthood.

Food insecurity puts young children at risk for negative health, developmental, behavioral, and academic outcomes. Food insecurity also puts young children's parents and other caregivers at risk for poor physical and mental health and can lead to family conflict.²

NC has the 9th highest rate of food insecurity OVERALL and the 9th highest rate of food insecurity AMONG CHILDREN in the United States.

In NC, 18.3% of children are living in food-insecure households. In some NC counties, as many as 33.2% of children live in food insecure households.

Cumberland County has the 25th highest rate of food insecurity and the 26th highest rate of food insecurity AMONG CHILDREN across North Carolina.¹

In Cumberland County, the OVERALL food insecurity rate is 16% and 23.6% AMONG CHILDREN living in food-insecure households.¹
